Dear Mr. Husbury.

I am a graduate student doing research into the J.F.K. assassination. I have many questions that I can not find answers for. But, One thing I do know, and that is what the W.C. said and what really happened are two different things.

I have a question which I hope you would be able to answer for me. That question is. 1st At Oswald's job at the T.S.B.D. did he use a time card? What was his usual hours. And if he did have to punch a time card, did he punch it when he left early that day in Nov 1963. I would appreciate if you could answer these questions, Enclosed is a SASE. for you to use.

Thank you for your help in the past. Good Luck in your research

Sincerely,

Harry Brandes

P.S. I also read in Photographic Whitewash that you may publish an index to WWIT, please inform me of this and if you are planning to publish any more books. If so please notify me when published.

Thank you. NB

Dear Mr. Brandes,

I do remember previous correspondence and this wonder why you use an address we have not had for eight years. Your letter of the 17th did reach me.

I can't take time for a lengthy reply because of all the work I'm trying to do. This includes trying to get Post Mortem out. We'll let you know when we do so please don't write about this. I hope you can understand that I can't work the hours I do and produce what I might if I have to answer letters or seem impolite.

I don't remember about the time cards.

However, you can easily approach this in a different way. He is not the only one who did not return to work that afternoon. Givens is one. He was picked up by the cops. Several of the women didn't. But I can't take time to look this up for you and I did go into it in the books you have.

There was not enough response to printing an index to WW II so we didn't do it.

Thanks for the courtesy and the thoughtfulness of the SASE. Broke as I am I appreciate the saving of the time and dime.

In an effort to achieve some financing for this unfinanced work I have agreed to go on lecture. A card I've just received from the bureau is enclosed if you know of any schools where students would want an appearance.

Good luck on your paper.

Sincerely,
